Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment and the information provided in the pretrial services report and at the detention hearing establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant is a U.S. citizen born and raised in the United States. He and his mother, a co-defendant, were homeless until recently moving in with his sister in a house she leases. His stepfather recently passed away. He has no contact with his father or older sibling. He has never been married and has no children.
2. Defendant's criminal history includes an arrest for public intoxication and a conviction for driving while intoxicated.
3. Defendant has been charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States and to pay and receive kickbacks in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 371. He faces of penalty of up to 5 years in prison.
4. Defendant lacks any real financial ties to the community and lacks stable employment and living arrangements.
5. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.
